Questions to consider surrounding the text

Main focus: Romans 2:3-5

1. Romans 2:1-11. You will notice that this whole chapter really has a main focus to it. An elevated pagan moralist, who agrees with Paul about the awful immorality of society and is appalled and shocked about the behavior of others, is the target of Paul's words in Romans 2:1-11. What is the chink in the armor of that moralist that Paul exposes?
2. Neither Greek nor Roman religion or philosophy had any doctrine of future judgment, but judgment was central to Judaism. Paul places his discussion of the final judgment in the context of this ancient pagan world. How would you summarize Paul's understanding of the final judgment in Romans 2:1-11?
3. Almost all of the religions of the world have this way of looking down their noses at people who they think are "less than they are", we sadly can be no different. What are the sins you are tempted to excuse in yourself while condemning them in others?
4. How would you use these verses to speak to someone who thinks that because they are good, they are saved?
5. What is Paul warning people in verses 4 and 5 about?
